IDF MILITARY COLLEGES

JUNE 2019

To Whom It May Concern,

The Israel National Defense College (INDC) serves as the top training program for senior officials in Israel. Participants of the INDC are comprised of high ranking officials from the public and defense sector of Israel including senior military officials (full Colonels to Brigadier Generals) from the IDF as well as international officers (from the United States, Germany, Italy etc.). All of the INDC participants have an open professional horizon so that the human networking conducted during their yearlong course would continue to serve them in their next assignments and positions.

INDC participants study national defense and strategic studies - focusing on the economic, political, defense and social aspects of national security. During their course the participants travel abroad, visiting NATO, the US and Asia, and learn the tools needed for senior strategists.

As part of this year's visit to the US, the 46th class of the INDC politely asks to visit an FBI facility. Following is a list of the group's relevant participants with their ranks and previous positions:

1. Igal Hadad – Commander at the Israel National Police (INP). Before joining the INDC he served as Commander of the Tiberias Area and Tiberias Police Station.
2. Hadas Madmoni – Commander at the INP. Her previous role was Chief Education Officer of the INP.
3. Michael Mishel Shafshak – Brigadier General (INP). Before joining the INDC he served as Deputy to Head of the Instruction Branch at the INP.
4. Inbal De-Paz – LTC (IDF). Before beginning her studies at the INDC, De-Paz served as Deputy to the Chief Military Prosecutor.
