IDF MILITARY COLLEGES

JUNE 2019

To Whom It May Concern,

The Israel National Defense College (INDC) serves as the top training program for senior officials in Israel. Participants of the INDC are comprised of high ranking officials from the public and defense sector of Israel including senior military officials (full Colonels to Brigadier Generals) from the IDF as well as international officers (from the United States, Germany, Italy etc.). All of the INDC students have an open professional horizon so that the human networking conducted during their yearlong course would continue to serve them in their next assignments and positions.

INDC participants study national defense and strategic studies - focusing on the economic, political, defense and social aspects of national security. During their course the participants travel abroad, visiting NATO, the US and Asia, and learn the tools needed for senior strategists.

For any further questions, please feel free to contact our office at ISMO.INDC@mail.gov.il.

Sincerely,
