

USA - Commandant of Marine Corps

Defense Attaché of the USA in Israel

LtCol. Seth MacCutcheon

Evaluation of LtCol. Seth MacCutcheon

LtCol. Seth MacCutcheon was an International Fellow from the USMC in 46th class of the Israel National Defense College (2018-2019). He has completed all obligations with honors and attained the title: Israel National Defense College Graduate.

Additionally LtCol. Seth MacCutcheon concluded all of his academic requirements and received an MA in Political Science – National Security, from Haifa University. He wrote his final paper on the subject: "The United States' Counter to Russian Expansionism in the Middle East".

LtCol. Seth MacCutcheon has been a valuable member of the class and has gained the respect and appreciation of staff and students alike. His unique perspective and his rich experience enriched our discussions and revealed his seriousness and wisdom, always bringing new and unique point of view to the table, especially in issues regarding the comparison between Israel's national Security challenges and those of the US.

I thanked LtCol. Seth MacCutcheon for his excellent contribution to the class. I wished him and his family all the best. I have no doubt he will continue to succeed in his future assignments and I am convinced that the added values and perspectives that he gained in Israel and at the INDC, will contribute to his future career in the USA.

Sincerely,
